

VENDREDI

Dear Willie,

Both of your
letters & Iffes invitation to your wedding
have reached us
during the last week. Please
express our compliments & regards to Mr & Mrs.
Servant, as of course
we cannot be
with you on this
most auspicious
occasion. All good wishes for yourself & your bride

& your future life
that heart can feel
on words express
my heart feels for
you tho' my poor
words but faintly
express those feelings.
If your marriage
brings to you half
the happiness which
mine had to me
you will be a
fortunate man.

Give my love
to your wife &
tell her that I
long to know
but I love her

for her own sake
as I already do for yours. But this is no time for a long letter, your mind is too much
occupied. Let me know when you
reach home &
you shall have a long old time
epistle from me.

Your ever affectionate,
cousin,
Susan.
