

Penelope Darling - I couldn't send this on without a word of love going of my sort - in it - Indeed, what a good little woman you are, with one outstanding fault, which you must try to overcome - Self depreciation - It makes you suffer, you beautiful little creature, and is true to yourself - I make bold to say this, because I have just had a letter from your father and dear mother, my next fathers and loves sister, in which she not only tells me of her love for me - which is praise disguised - but also tells me some of my faults - which too she has to overcome Penelope love.
See a way, if we depreciate ourselves too much, blame ourselves, which means we possess a quality - it's a way - it really 2 is a slave at our parents, isn't it? for so many of our traits - do seem to fall upon us - good - as well as the ones w^{ch} scrape off from our keep-or - their keep -

You are beautiful, bright, good, True, graceful, artistic, with many other charms I - embrace you - could mention them. Love dear precious little Lon Peelrope - My all my goodness - embrace them you are run down & nervous
- My all my goodness, to undervalue my beloved Peelrope? I take it very hard -

Well, my dear, I all meant to send my love to you, and love & love peelrope a fine season - it just seems to fall off the feet of my pre-zills from me, won't you, keep you 3/ all my "near-child" - really I love that a great deal about you since my love vint with you - you care to much - sub as - where you saw your car up on the side walk - you saw the only one called, & had you been a man (a wonderful wonderful man) you'd have forgotten it by the time you got back on to the street - a man - "a wonderful wonderful man" (I don't you read "Two Freedom") might just so easily have me a car up on the side walk as you, in all the world. - How you paid me just one more money dear - you beffed because you think that cute little darling baby Memie wasn't good when I was there; I think she was darling - of course I know, you wanted her to be an Angel 4 for me. — Children usually will not show off — and any one who does I am so unably independent and it — "oney" or our big day — "oney" I think she was good — and Honey darling you are just the darliest little child! — I am running off now, but will just say as I close this little proclamation

Be good to yourself?
