

OXFORD, NEW JERSEY,

Bright 1882

My dear Ellen

Your letter by your mother

I have just opened. and was am glad to hear from you

I write this before sending up by your Mrs today that Emie has a little rash than Mr.

Wrote of your mother your Mrs.

she has had a cold to be sure days. but she has not learned them bright & mischievous than this she is along time yet I thought I ought to advise you

& this is the best I know of when you are

Much love to you both In great haste here all as busy today Politically Affectionately
Your Son
