

cannot write it to night I am alone down stairs all have gone to bed & I imagine asleep Good night to all your dear ones Ever your

My dearest Ellie,

I have wanted to write to you for several days past not that I can tell you any news for I think Jennie must tell your dear mother all about the family, but I have had $5.00 laid by for you taken out of a check, a present from Mr Charles Hebard to me, I'll enclose his letter thinking your mother may be pleased to read it. I answered much to tell about her but this letter, and received another very kind, lovely letter from him, he as every one of my friends are glad that I am spending the winter in the south. "Among other things he writes "I wish I knew more about your affairs what you owe, and what there is in the property above the debts, &c &c "Please write me again & tell me all about, which if you wish shall be in confidence" all this is for your dear mother for we are more & more like one and our interests are together, my darling precious sister, I am so glad she is with you this winter for I hope she will feel ready to go home when I do. dear Ellie I would love to spend a summer with you at Clifton, but we can talk this over another time, I have been so well all winter, and I could not help but be happy here Jennie is so lovely and kind the children are all good & bright, Addison always pleasant altho I can see these hard times are trying upon him, he works from early morning until night is from home nearly half of the time, the other day he went away at six in the morning & came home nearly midnight, when he came in I said you must be very tired, Oh No I am not tired in a cheerful voice.

This morning Jennie took the children + me down town in her carriage, went to Evans + Roi's shoe store Jennie bought shoes for the children + herself + your dear mother + for you, I got myself a pair just like yours -

Jennie is very busy all day long, does all the sewing for her children, Has many calls to take up much of her time, patients come to her for healing, I do not see them excepting their fine carriages + horses + coachmen, a lady comes to see J, now who was given up by phy. - + dying with cancer Jennie was called to see her, found her suffering great pain, she was relieved in a very short time, she is comfortable now + rides out I believe every day + twice a day, her husband does not know that she is being healed by C.S, there is so
