

Parker Lumber Company

—Wholesale and Retail Dealer in—

FIR AND CEDAR LUMBER, LATH, PLAIN AND FANCY BUTT SHINGLES
MOULDINGS MADE TO ORDER

YARD AND MILL
13th Ave., Near East Jefferson St.

Seattle, Washington July 15, 1906

Dear Folkes:-

Enclosed you will find a view of the campus of the U. of W. which I tore out of a catalogue. I thought it might interest you as the probable site of the coming Alaska Yukon exposition to be held here in 1909. I have seen the grounds several times. Commencement week I went out one evening at the invitation of a friend of Harry Willetts whom he used to know in Iowa. She will be a senior this year, and is a pretty decent sort of a girl. Reminds me in looks a good deal of Katherine H. - altho she is not red headed. She and a sister and two friends have a nice little house on Capitol hill in the same part of the city where they are putting up the swellest residences now. Three of the girls are teachers and the senior expects to be one. I think she wants to go into public school work, is very much interested in her studies. There is only one very serious fault I find with her and that is that she gets so terribly embarrassed unless some one is talking. I don't think it is absolutely essential to keep up a continual conversation on a street car when you can't hear anything and I think it's all right to stop for breath once in a while anyway. There wasn't much of a crowd the night we went out because of the bad weather.

had planned an open air band concert but changed it to a dance in the gym. The campus looks better than when the picture was taken. What looks like a flowered field in the center is now a smooth green lawn.

1/15/06