

2231 College Avenue,
Berkeley, California

My dear Mary.

If I could only tell you how happy I was in receiving your letter! I had been intending to do what you did - send a letter to Ellen for re-direction. And ask for an account of your life in the East this year.

Your clear, and most interesting reference to our journeying caused me merriment. You see do you about a good deal, and I fully concur. I like it, Mary.

Just now we are uncertain again, as Aunt has been placed temporarily in charge of the Boston Office, and we are considering departure from our dear little rose-corned cottage, from which the dewdrops on the Garden lately may be seen every morning, and where every kind of a flower and shrub blooms in midwinter.

How it would rejoice my heart, dear Mary, if the efforts I am making should result in your wishes, to travel in the West, being carried out.

Bowdoin is the State University, and there has never been but one woman on the faculty, except the case of Brewer. I think the English department there is well supplied, but have you ever thought of Colorado College, at Colorado Springs? This is a Copeland institution and there is not a change of the institution in Denver. However as Brewer University. This latter institution however, does not maintain as high a standard of scholarship as the other colleges.

Would you consider anything as far away as California? Mills College is in Oakland, and is far from any. There is a Jesuitly there. Then I have a friend, Mrs. Adams, who is Copeland's next Secretary in Berkeley (University of California) You know all about such matters & I will see her as soon as I can. Please let me know whether you would consider school work. I presume not, after teaching in college.

My cousin, Rev. Guy Fodenworth, is President of a Presbyterian college in Vermont, and I have written to him, telling what a horrid girl you are, that your parents were aesthetes, that you badly squeezed through Oberlin, that you have never taught since, and that you are not at Yale this year. Cousin Guy was formerly in charge of Agricultural College, near Los Angeles, and I think he is in touch with a good many similar institutions, so it is possible that he will be able to put us on the right track till another source of information is to be found at the Jesuit Agency at San Francisco. I have a friend here, who is well acquainted with the head of this Bureau, and either Reese or I will meet him this week, and put you in communication with him So you see, by the time you receive this, I will be so glad to see in the file. If I only knew where to send it by next year, I would certainly sent a paper especially but in that direction. Be sure to let me know whether you come to come to you must, or to teach in a school.

I think so. Cheney's designs are principally with High Schools.
Beese planned two positions at once in Colorado to take charge of English and History in High Schools, but his business being done before he expected it, and he of course, accepted neither.

Our old friend Dorothea Lewis is now the wife of a clergyman in England. I regret to say I have not yet written out her address, but hope to do so soon - I was plunged into a thousand things from Philadelphia, under Professor Hoyden, who is, like your father-in-law, one of the best in America; & Sunday School work and Sunday duties. So this must close for now, with very much love to my dear old friend, Mary. If you think of the "horrid" summer of 1902 with a shudder, I think of 1903 with a vengeance. I'll be with least love to you. The main part of your mother's and Ellen's letters are with 22 March 1906 Q. E. W. Lewis to Mother.

This just came & I have answered it. I think it a very nice letter - a little pertinent, I think, for the invitation that she didn't acknowledge was that the year we graduated? ¹⁹⁰³ It must be what she means by the reference to 1903. Her note may be a great help and I am very thankful for her help & what may come from it. I said I didn't call for high-schools. Please send this to Marcia and Evelyn and then return it to me as I may want it for reference.
