

Dear Willie,-

The editor of our college paper has just given me a copy of the first Dorham Review, which she gets in exchange + I saw by it that the Cornell game is next Saturday. I want to go, but have not yet looked around to see if any one else is going, so can't tell my plans exactly. You are going to play aren't you? I wouldn't mind going for any thing. We must plan where I can meet you so that we can have a little visit, and you'll have to do that, for I don't know where you are, so I know where you will be at Liberty. I know

You said you boys have all kinds of restrictions and you know I don't know what they are. Please write me so I am sure to get your letter early enough.

I'd love to have you come to Elucina while you're so near & hope if you can arrange to you well, though probably that too is not allowed. But if you can come, please remember that I'm crazy to have you.

Later. This is Sunday evening. I haven't found any body that is going from here to the game & so I am going to write to Charles Humphrey tonight asking him to meet me there. If any body is going from here, I shall be glad, for I don't want to write Charles to ^{2.} ~~g.~~ take me to the game and if some girls go along I can pay for myself. Of course I should write Charles any way, because we should want to see each other: he'd think it funny if I didn't write.

I haven't forgotten that I owe you some money, Mr. Billy Boy, and I have some of my own now, ~~so~~ I can return yours; but I want you to get this letter right away, and so shall not wait till I can go down town for a draft: I have classes all morning. How much was my ticket to Elmira? Love you that and $20.⁰⁰ ⁴ besides.

Dear, how glad I shall be to see you next Saturday. I hope you'll have time to send me just a note about when & where I can find you.

Sincerely your sister Mary.

Sunday, October ⁴~~3~~, 1908.

Elisava Callaghan, Elisava, New York.

3rd. Change! A letter just came from Charles Humphrey before mine to him had gone, so you see he is going to take me to the game. I told him I'd take the early train, reaching ^{Elisava} ~~Elisava~~ about mid o'clock - If you're there in the morning, maybe I can see you then.

Say, Willie, Mr. Van den Steen has written me several times that he wanted to send us some ^{plants - I} slips ^{and} of Washington roses to try if they ^{from} will grow for us in Oberlin. He ^{what} told me to find out from a florist ^{from} what was the proper time to set them out and send him word so he could send them at the best time. Will you please find out & let me know so I can write him? I think it would be very nice for me not to attend to the matter when he has been so nice and has written several times; so I leave it very much on my mind. I shall thank you very much for the information when you have time to get it for me.

Many
○