

11th June 1912
My dear Billy, Tony,- Your last letter to me (which was forwarded from Berlin) was highly exciting. It does not seem as if it could come true that you could make so much money this summer but I'm hoping and praying that you can.
The last letter from May was highly exciting too.
There's the school fee and I must go.
Sunday. I played this little trio. Yesterday I went early marables. She could see me Merchant of Venice was playing & a farce. I didn't like the bit form. As far as I am an amateur with the performances but the few that one peasant down the pavement seems to have turned against are of a rudeness after the extravagant formal that has been given. I'm not much for the theatre. I am anxious to see all the Shakespeare I can & felt worst I best was not able (because no one asked me to charwoman & could not afford to go otherwise) to see Melvyn & Southern or again to see Hamlet as well as so ago - I put the actors because I feel as it is true to when in the morning (on the 7:55 train) to Cincinnati to take one of the girls to the dentist's. Then after we had had luncheon at one of the department stores, I put her in the car for Glendale and when it was time ~~we~~ took myself to the theatre where I was charter for two more girls, whom I met there. Viola Allen gave several scenes from Shakespeare and one from The School for Scandal. We were so sorry that this was the matiné for we would rather have seen a whole play. She played in Twelfth Night in the evening and in Cymbeline the rest of the work. I thought she and the whole company were

I am teaching Shakespeare - but I didn't get a single point for my work yesterday.
& many things went against - my ideas many things was so sluggy.

I suppose Maup has been writing you about her troubles. It does seem too much and I have been real worried about her & her prospects. But I say she every thing will come out all right in the end.

Maupma seems to be getting on very well indeed. They have not decided yet whether she is to go home or to a sanitarium after she leaves the hospital. I sent her a box of just common wild violets - Friday.

Life is so tedious for her there. Do you write to her? If you do, you might send her little skips or things as you did in the letters you sent before she went to Cleveland but which she could not read. We have to be very careful yet about writing her any thing in which she would be too much interested.

That reminds me. I asked you for money and many say you are going to send some. I do hate to have you awfully poor for you may be able, as you say, to do more if you are not so cramped for money.

out the next two payments & have I got it at a time you know and we will be fifty. But I do hate to take any of your money. O, I do hope you can make, money as you expect this summer. And I hate always to be writing you about the money so.
Only four weeks more and I am out of school. I am very anxious to get some kind of work to do for the summer, but have hardly any hopes of finding it. I don't know how or where to get and things.
It is hard to find summer teaching to do. Many is also anxious to get work to do this summer. Poor Mary, she's and yet I hardly seems as if I could write you not to send any either for I don't see how we are going to get on. I seem to be the only one for money and I have such a tiny bit and of course won't be getting a cent from June fifth (when school is out) until October.

I don't see that Eveline has paid any at the hospital since I left and while Dr.
Allen will wait for his money I don't believe the hospital will.
I paid thirty five dollars the before I left for home. Here, we are going to have the same old difficulty of borrowing at the bank ~~for~~ in order to get back to our schools. I appeal to pay Dr. Allen's bill having an awful time, isn't she? It means too hard. I told you, didn't I long ago, that I have promised to stay here another year. There was nothing else to do and yet I can't help feeling that it isn't any too good for me — it is so narrow. My work is fascinating — I love it.

It is perfectly beautiful here now with the trees out. And such lovely birds we have in this yard. A cardinal has his nest on a bush by the dining room window. There are thrushes, and bluebirds etc. in the yard. I love the summer I love to smell the new mown grass.
How I should like to see that country
