

Mamma had me telephone to Dr Vincent
of her visit
Vincent + he come don't make a fine call.

Sunday April 21, 1907.

Dear Miss Penny.

Poor, poor Miss Pennywinks and her imperial cake! Some people do act the queerest I ever heard tell of. Can't you do anything to make them mend their evil ways? I just think that eating business was the worst I ever heard of in a book ever.

Well, I had a lovely visit with Mamma dear yesterday. She is much stronger and better than when you saw her. She can move quite a little more - even turn over very slowly to the other side.

I am now just as anxious as you were, lest I stayed too long; but while I was there it didn't seem so. The nurse brought in her supper - delicious - and just before I started back Dr Coy and a nurse came to do something.
Everything seems to be going as well as possible. I had such a good visit but didn't see any of the hospital but ward 8. I am sure

Mamma will be glad for letters now She had "a model one" from Mrs Wagner as Mamma called it.

I haven't written before because I hadn't heard any thing new. Mamma doesn't want the nurses to have to write for they have so much to do and she doesn't write more than every other day. We haven't telephoned since you left. Isn't it just grand that all is so well. I am just so happy.

Mrs Hawkins was just in to ask what news I had told of my visit. She knew I was going Saturday morning and what did she do but telephone up Saturday morning advising me to take a lunch or get my lunch before I left the square to go to the hospital. Wasn't it thoughtful of her - I could have thought of the message for myself. She seems so interested.

good to be true.

Mrs Davis and Mr. Grover were also in Wask about Mamma this afternoon.

Amy has gone and we quite like it. Of course there is work but it is not much more tiresome than having someone always around & paying her when you know the money ought to go elsewhere.

I saw shoes in Cleveland - Oxford spat and leather on front end - for one dollar and was greatly tempted. There was some sale. I also saw long gloves - silk for 49¢ silk for $1.25. The former ⁴⁻²¹⁻⁰⁷ had none of our size or would hang to you a grey pair. They had no black ones left. I had it the amt for silk ones. Kids long ones were down to two and a half. I did buy something tho now I am afraid you won't want it. It is a black leather bag a tiny bit larger than my red one but the metal trimming is not extra good. It has a leather handle. I bought it for a birthday present for you & if you want it now I will send it. I think you could paint over the top opening with lamp black. I saw one with black fastening & painted tin. I guess. If you think this bag would not be good enough
