

Oxford, Oct. 14th 1905

Dearest Polly,

I think I owe you a letter at any rate I want to say Good morning to you!

This is a perfect day so sunny I wonder if you will be studying on Sat. Aunt Lily & Lydia arrived yesterday - We were riding most of the afternoon and are going out this morn, in the direction of Edgworth where I will be over Sunday.
I always go for that day!!

Aunt Lily seems very well for her & we are enjoying her visit Aunt Clara has had several invited guest: people that she felt under obligation to from Washington, as they want to come out in the Country she entertains them instead of in the Town & there there will be less of it this winter perhaps tho' it seems to me they are always having something going on -

Their house over there is now ready for them to occupy, I think I had a very interesting letter from Evilina. She seems to be quite happy in her school. With those earnest people, I believe she will be a help & inspiration to them. She is bound to be a help to them.

Your Mother & Selden seem to be getting on well & Thelma too. We have much cause for thankfulness I hope your cold is better or gone Estouch has been affected in the same way but is improving - We had sausage & buckwheat cakes for breakfast, no lump atom to you however. I'm glad Mrs. Harvey Peck is so considerate of Sister, as to let her uninvited I wonder if you are getting acquainted & if you meet pleasant people. No doubt ^{they were} very different from Oberlin there. it is rather nice to see folks of a different stamp once in a while don't you think so? Are you in every thing in studies as you wish

Do you here to keep up in German Don't bother to write to me. I run you here so many to write to and I can see some of your letters & know what you are doing.
With a heart full of love I am your devoted, loving Grandson

Miss Mary M. Beldue, 90 Mrs. Lathrop,
120 Howe Street -
New Haven
Connecticut

NEW HAVEN, CONN.
OCT 15
2 39 AM
1903