

Monday noon

My dear Ellie,

I want to write a line this morn. just to say that we all Uncle S. Aunt Ellen, Carrie & my self request as a favor to remember that Mrs. do not touch the Bain. The instrument itself is heavy & the box is terrible, so the only lumber that could be gotter do just give it in the hands of those whose business it is to handle furniture, & let them place it, do every thing - Mrs. must not lift, Uncle S. say, if he goes to try & lift it, I mean help in any way. he will be soured for going to London I'm sorry the other things were not in better order but they all things it was better to have it done after you see it instead of waiting for it here. Joseph left on Sat. expect to spend Sunday in Washington city & arriving at Clinton Tuesday morning. He is a dear, good boy.

Carrie expects to go to Ithaca on Thursday - leaving there on the following Monday. Every thing is made pleasant here for me, & I try to appreciate it but Oh! the aching void,

With love for all, & kisses to the dear children aff. Mother.

Aunt Ellen comes in & says give her love to you all.

Mrs. William H. Belden, Bridgeton,
N. Jersey.
