

THE VENDOME

J. W. WOLCOTT.

* BOSTON *

Jan'y 5th 1882

My Dear Cousin

Yours of yesterday is just at hand. I replied at once to say that I shall be happy to be of service to you if you will indicate the way.

It would please me to have you located where I might frequently see you. I have found it necessary to leave Newford on account of my health - and at just the time when I was doing best in business - But twice I have tried to return and each time have so rapidly run down that I fear

Newport air. You must necessarily smile when I say that Massachusetts air has always strengthened me.

I am very well acquainted in many parts of this state and my friendship is at your command. Write me if any particular location is to be reached and I can possibly find some means of influencing it.

I shall (D.V.) be at brother Willis on Thursday next and hope to see you there. I expect Lizzie will also attend. She will go from Amherst Wednesday and be at the Paul Ave Hotel during that evening.
I probably arrive at 11 o'clock from her. Please give my very kind remembrances to Cousin Ellen.

As ever your affectionate brother
Wm D Pelden
