You don't know how much pleasure Selden takes in the sweater you made. He enjoys it not only the wearing of it, but also looking at it and remarking that you made it for him.

The Japan cloth I cannot use just now, but I am putting it aside with a great many other things to be used some day. You see, our table is undisturbedly becomes a kitchen table as

Sunday,
Dec. 29/18.

Dear Mother, -

Your letter came yesterday, and also the one to Mill which I forwarded. His address is,
R. R. No. 3,

Victoria, B.C.
% Percy Hillis.

From his letters one would judge that he is pretty busy, as his hours are from 5.30 A. M. to about 7.00 or 7.30 P. M.

We spent Christmas

and yet was never badly wounded. Ever since
the coming of peace,
we have been hoping
he would be home
for Christmas, but the next best thing happened: we heard that day that he was coming.
We are all much
excited over it.

Yes, the parcel
arrived safely and in good time. The ornaments are simply lovely. It is a pleasure to look at them. The other day I was proudly displaying my silver to a couple

in Chinook at the Rideouts: I think we will always remember
it as a very pleasant day and also as our first Christmas together.
You know Mr. Rideout
was discharged and returned home about four months ago and now my other brother-
in-law expects to arrive this week. Mr. Rideout was in the Treaty and never in any immediate danger, but Mr. Vincent was in the trenches for nearly a year, part of the time in Belgium,

been a serious "come-back".
In my last letter from home Mother was nursing few patients and expected to be away on Christmas.

I don't think Selma
will write this evening,
as he is far, far away,
in company with "Let's misera-bles". We both send the best of wishes for all good things in 1919.

Lovingly,
Coral

P.S. Show you
over head.

Peter? Selma
received it
as a loan
present
and we both
enjoyed
it so.

soon as the cloth is removed! The curtains
are cream marquisette which I hemstitched, and as the living room is also the kitchen, I can't use side curtains. I love them too.

I am afraid I can't use the motor cap, and it is a shame, for it is such a beautiful thing.
However, I think it is soon to undergo a transformation, but I can't tell you yet

what the outcome will be, as I haven't it very clear in my own mind.

When the big crop
comes - yes, that is when we are coming to Oberlin, but we hope you do not wait for that to come to Oberlin.
We are not at all
cramped for room in summer; there is the whole prairie, but it might not be so comfortable when there is a big park as there is to-day.

We are glad to know you escaped the
flu. It hasn't disappeared entirely here, and in some places there has

Among other Christmas presents we received a little glass butter-tub inlaid with silver, a silver plated bread plate and a very pretty casserole. I also have a Pyrex casserole that came among wedding-presents.
Should you any Pyrex dishes? I have two Pyrex pie-plates too, and I like them so well. They cook things so quickly and are so nice to handle - I like to see them better than anything else.
