

Saturday morning

I don't find any material for a letter. - You don't think I was selfish with Miss Thomas, do you?

I thought she really wanted me to write about the Middle English. -

Dear love to you
C.W.C.

Dear Lady and Binnywinks:

I have just written Dora saying that we are looking for her back in June. I am so afraid she will prefer to stay in that smaller house. I did not mention this to her, though. I told her Mamma was planning to be at home the entire year and that I was to be there till about the first of February, and I also said that as Mamma had not been well, we were not planning to have as much company as last year. I said you were taken sick here but were a lot better now.

Last night I wrote to Mr. Fowl and told him that the reason we had not written was that we were so undecided in our plans but that now we thought we would not put on the extension but would need a little interior work done and that I hoped he could do it as soon as I could get home. I wish I knew just when I can get away, but I can't find that out till the examination schedule is posted.

Pinn; you never said whether you received the check for four dollars I made out to the visiting nurses' association some time ago. There must be quite a little owing now. I don't know how much to make out the check for to them, so I will put in a check made out to you, Pin. Please tell me in your next letter about getting it and the other too. I sometimes get it on my mind about checks that might be stolen as I understand that the thieves do is to raise the figure and you might have thousands drawn on a small check - not that I think it will happen to me often in my career.

Any just came in to tell me that she heard Mrs. Laubsocher was out of a position for next year and she knows

2
there is a vacancy at Wilson College and so I must get off a letter at once to her. Amy doesn't want to be named in the matter.

This is the day we get our own breakfasts, as the dining-room was used till 2:30 last evening for the Prom and couldn't be got ready for breakfast. Mine was very poor, as I had an eight o'clock class and didn't have any good provisions any way - I drank the rest of the cold tea left from yesterday afternoon and ate a roll I brought up yesterday. Do I am going to lunch. And I must get the letter written to Mrs. Laubscher so it can go in the noon mail. I will send it special delivery - Amy suggested a telegram, but I guess this will do. Amy didn't know how long the vacancy had been known about at Wilson and so how much haste was needed.

The medicine has just come from Lyons and Laerie - thank you so much, Pin. How much was it? Miss Thomas brought it up - said she had seen it a couple of days ago - we just get our mail when we do get it.

Well - I must write that letter. This poor thing carries a lot of love to you both and I hope you are all well. Ida has asked me a number of times whether Will was recovered.

Polly - Poppy

I wrote Clara when I first learned that I had the leave. Then I found the course that had been given her for next year as an elective was withdrawn and write her about that. This is her answer to the first of my letters - it came in the same mail with this other one, which answers my other later letter. Clara is very nice about helping out with anything one wants to do about the work.

Darling Mary,

I am so glad you have the leave - and when you talk with Harry remember that you'll do any amount of extra to help you. — I don't know what the College will seem like without you, but that is another
matter.
