

Sunday Dec 9. 1906

Dear Mary,

Found these old letters and though they are stale I believe I will send them. We are all getting on well here.

Ellen will be home in a week and a half. Perhaps Jeanne Marie and Adelaide will be here then, too. We are hoping they will still come.

Did you ever get your books? If you have not will you please send the bill of lading right away,

come and I will start a tracer after them. I have ment to write this before.

We are all getting on well here. Mamma is improving all the time.
Mrs. H. is here once a week now and Mamma
may go for electricity to her office soon.

Travelling

Pinkie.
