The month of August you are, Ellie dear, my month always in my long thought - I can't say I love you more that day than any other, nor feel more tenderly to you - and I know you don't want to remember dates - but - when I think of all these bare years you have lived since that August 9th was so long ago, I just wonder that I am fit to be your sister.

When I think of all these years that I have had my husband, I feel so so so Oh Ellie, so respectfully tender of me in your magnificent life of struggle and faith, & courage in health and in illness —

There are so many dates I don't remember — but Aug 9th I always do, and all the way got led us thru that time Little North so ill — & Geo. hardly able to get to meet you — you so poorly — and Evelyn so unfit for travel —
