

Yesterday I had a long talk with Humphrey and told him all about our expectations, and we looked at all the little things together. He is in a heaven of anticipation! And his comprehension is wonderful.
He says the sweetest things!

I'm trying to get a stack of mail out of the way - as I plan to leave the advent tomorrow. Of course there's no real reason why I should, except that the others were early and tomorrow suits me!
Much much love, Méri

St. Dunstan's Lodge
Ashville
21 March 1924

Dear Evangeline,
Just a line - for Mother has already written you a letter which no doubt has news - to thank you for the exquisite afghan. There are only two uses for it, it is so lovely - one is for the Baptism, whenever that is - and then to be framed in a frame with glass on both sides. It is about the loveliest thing I ever saw - simply beautiful.

We had an exhibit of all our dear things the other day, for the benefit of all our Teachers, who were keenly interested in every bit. Then your Afghan came, and we had a special show of it all alone. Most of them are knitters and so appreciated all the stitches - and the perfect binding. Every bit of it is precious to me. And I want you to see it in action!

I feel almost as if you had set us up in housekeeping and outfitted our Baby too! So you see how promptly you are coming in on things!

Friday affects to come tomorrow for Census' birthday celebration which we are having a day late so we can all be together. He is feeling very grown-up!