

all gone and the pedal crank is about worn out which would cost me I don't know how much and to cap it all the wheel is too small for me. The girls think it would be cheaper to fix up my old wheel but I think it would be a great deal more economical to buy a new one don't you? I can't get but $5 for my old wheel and I think if I can find another job I can pay for it very soon all by myself. I hope you understand my side of the difficulty, you see the argument the girls put a horse or a cow and have it on shares with us. If we had a cow we could have as much milk as we wanted and some to sell besides.

Dear Mama:-

We have been having pretty nearly a fight over my getting a new wheel. My old wheel I have had for four years and I have used it pretty nearly every day and it wasn't anberg extra fine wheel anyway so naturally it should be worn out now which it is. The front tire is worn out which will cost me $3.25 to get a new one. The pedals are worn but which would cost 2.15 to get a new pair and the seat has to me to sit on because it is up to not even with mine. They say that they have had their wheels 8 years and then they don't need any more.

They don't need new wheels of course because they don't use them any where near as much as mine and besides their cost about $100 apiece and mine cost only 18. Well, I hope you see that I could earn the money without having you give me any and see that it would be greater economy to buy a new one than to have mine fixed up.

Yours lovingly "Jeddy"

My dear Mama:-

I suppose you have heard that the Heacox's are ^{not} going camping at all haven't you. William and I are greatly disappointed. Mrs Davis says that when you come home perhaps our two families can go out to the lake and stay. She would like to go but she says that you ought to with us because you know more about camping that she does. Don't you think you might go with us because we want to go for an outing very much.

I hope what I have said about the wheel won't worry you any. I wish you would tell me the way you think
