

7.

find them. He was not there, of course.
I guess I ended my ~~reputed~~ good favor with her by saying that I didn't think I got as much out of things in the original as in a good translation.
I mentioned that you + M. preferred the other way so the family is not lost entirely.
I never saw anything like the trouble
I have had in getting books on my subject.
Everyone I meet on the street I have asked for weeks. The learned book stores of this city only afforded two of G. S.'s one of which I procured + read Monday. It is fine - one of her greatest is that

Have you sent by things I have not to you?

Please
tell me.

friends, making me think, if I needed any thing to make one, of how we used to sit there together.

~~wool~~ ~~cotton~~ wool to make a dress for me

I don't need it but will send measurements to keep peace. I do need a fancy silk or something but not a schubdress. The I will enjoy it but want money so much more. I am awfully grateful, however. Guess it will be made something like Jeanne M's black silk. Have you suggestions.

Aunt M. just sent 4 or 5 ~~old~~ <sup>old</sup> worn silk waists aprons, cologne, her elegant velvet dress to Mamma & some Madras curtains (not as pretty as yours tho good quality). I am supposed to be writing my paper & this is why... pieces of things. We had a grand luncheon party which was a success. I have sent you 2 more... I have sent you 2 more... I have sent you 2 more...

period — "The Snow Man". I'll send it to you to read if you want. It is not very large. "Fanchon the Cricket" (or

"La Petite Fadette") is a regular pastoral story of peasant life & not objectionable morally at all.

I am joined with 15 hrs.

Ethics 2 hrs Drawing 2 hrs English Composition 2 hrs. The Major Prophets 2 hrs German 4 hrs English History (Prof.
Hall) 3 hrs.

Aunt Jenny has sent word that Aunt M. has sent her a red

Ellen Scranton Belden.

Lesson IV. 2 (3)

As I was coming home I took the Sikehigh Valley Rail Road, which you know is noted for its beautiful scenery, and of course I was on the look out for all I could see especially as I knew that later in my trip there would be very little that was particularly attractive or picturesque. When I heard the conductor call out "The next station C-" I began to watch for familiar sights.
Soon things began to look natural and there we were passing by Rocky Run; you remember how the rail road passes a short distance up the stream.
Everything seemed to look the same it was as green as when we used to picnic there and it must be as attractive as ever for there was a crowd there then. Of course there were children the waving their hats and caps but I looked past them I wanted to get a glimpse of our favorite tree. There it was, the dear big thing and under those low branches were sitting two