

My dear Ellie. Your letter this morning brought such good and good news about Willie the tears came to my eyes for joy at the prospect. Oh I am so glad for you'd care not begin to tell you of course no mirks to see him also. But I would not deprive you of one moment of his precious time.
Of course we do not know his place. But you and he might be coming East sometime.
Now I can be better reconciled to you not going to California. perhaps that is one reason as you may have known Willie could come that you decided to remain in your dear home in Abbeville. Oh never part with it as long as you live! I would some way to keep people there where you want to go away. Oh what delectable times you can have there with none to molest you. I won't ask you for a single letter but please send me a postal after as March 30 1924

you can put so much on a partab.
Thank you for your enclosure. How I would have enjoyed hearing Dr Hanna I have been looking over some notes I took while I was in his class - which recall much but I am hungry for more.
What a wonderful year of enjoyment and variety - you have had and expect here! I think there is so much pleasure in anticipation as well as in realization and then retrospection. I am surely rejoicing with you. I wonder how you are is getting on - Oh I am so sorry you did sprain it - please be very careful.
I have engaged a housekeeper for the summer - but the Dr + Gutman say I can't go - I am trying to be very quiet just now so I can get back to normal - for it seems as if it would almost kill me to be deprived of that pleasure - Please do not allude to this in any general letter as I cannot endure to have it discussed

I think I must like Mrs. E.
