My dear Mary:

Every day or so I get in to see your Dad. Your Mother is with him constantly. If his getting well only depended upon loving care and devotion, I am sure he would get well. When I saw him Thursday he looked frail. He had had a couple of good days but was not so well. My heart ached for him. Everything that can be done is being done. It remains for us who love him to pray for him and ask God to do what men cannot do. We certainly want him to live. He is such a useful man and there are so many people who need his skill and friendship. I am sure you must be very proud of him.

God bless you as you celebrate your fifteenth birthday. I hope that the day brings you cheer and consolation, many expressions of love and inspiration for the new year. Please give my very best regards to your Aunt. Believe me always,

Your devoted older brother,

WHH:MIC
