My dear Evelina

Like almost every body else I seem to be rather "poor" this year, but I do want your children to know that their "Uncle George" is an actual personality; so I enclose this small check which please use for Christmas in any way you wish - you know that it is merely an indication of what I would like to do!

I am so glad to have had at least a little visit with you and do hope that I will have an opportunity to see you all before long; I want to renew my acquaintance with Henry and to know your children - it is such a pity that I have never even seen them.

I suppose that you are again pursuing the even tenor of your ways. I'm thinking a great deal about Mary under the changed conditions. Poor child! While of course you all
