Dear Sue Lina,

Your beautiful letter touched and pleased us. You and Mary and Ellen would understand as few people could how strange and shaken and lonely life has suddenly become for us. The one thing that does good fast, and the steadiness is the friendliness of friends. One is apparently for a time cold to us, but still warmed by that. And so I thank you, and send you my love.

Mary and Ellen are so dear to us. So
