

lately how Henry is as
to health these days.
You, dear Melina, had some hardships in your reins. I had and I hope they will get well.
I don't know enough about such calamity
but I do pray for health for you for it is so necessary these heavy harder days we all
know.

It is so to hear more of Mowzy's progress in music & of course in all lines & about Beldin's chosen fields of special interest.

My two at the

Dear Melina

How much I
wish I could drop
into your sweet home
which I remember in such detail, and talk with you about your dear Mother
whom we loved so.

I thought of you so intensely as I pictured you going so many miles from your dear
children on your
sad but sweet errand.
I hope Mowzy and Beldin were quite alright on your return
and I haven't heard

davenport together with a book (for tissues between them) Susan celebrating a holiday at the time of Stephen's first day up & down stairs after two weeks in bed - swollen glands & a bad throat which had kept us very anxious thru nine days & me very busy with hot gargles, ice in, nose drops & medicine.

You know, ^{country}
I know Ruth missed being with you at Greenwood. The International Migration Service has cut so many from their staff & those left are doing more than double duty - so she couldn't leave.
We are hoping all pieces of constructive social work will not be chopped by the way-side in the face of tremendous needs for Relief.

As for ourselves we hope the rail roads will soon begin to order stuff again & that N.Y. City will certify their subway work. For Carl's company is getting low in spare indeed. We have had two cuts - but what is ahead? My heart aches for those already testing disaster. I'd love to talk to you, Melina - about many things. My dearest love
