

THE MISSIONARY REVIEW OF THE WORLD.

ARTHUR T. PIERSON, D.D., Editor.

J. T. GRACEY,	} Associate
A. J. GORDON,
D. L. LEONARD,	} Editors.

Rochester, N. Y., May 5th, 1891.

Dear Sister Belden:-

You distress me, by saying you and Brother Belden are not to be at Clifton Springs. I had set my heart on your being there all summer. But you will know better after awhile, and may be you can come after all. You are doing bravely as Secretary; yes, wonderfully. I am only afraid we are allowing you to work too hard for us with all the rest of your cares.

I am beginning to get replies. Some 35 or more are in, and each mail brings one or two. I cannot say what to do about the circulars, only that I have none, and we usually want a good many through the year following, and it may be well to get out some more. Do as you please and as you find comfortable to yourself. Do not bother over expence. We will take care of that, and if you have now to make bills that inconvenience you for cash, let me know and I will take care that you are supplied with the funds.

Do not bother to send me the Roll you have so laboriously made out till the meeting, as you propose. I will be busy beyond reason any how till then. I go to Chicago next Monday to deliver an address, but will be back before the week is out, I hope.

"Give my very best love to Rev. William H. and tell him he must get well and take the Presidents place and I will become Secretary. May God right speedily restore him, and sustain you.

Your Indebted Brother,

J. T. Gracy