Dear Mother, -

Note the wording. This is not a letter. It is not even a note. It is an inquiry. How do you cure the hives?

A little friend of mine has been suffering from that malady off and on - mostly on - for about a year, and in spite of the fact that she is a Christian Scientist, the hives continue to prosper. She has eaten + drunk soda at the advice of the doctor, until she can't look at it, and lately she has been eating yeast.

If I remember rightly, you had a bad case of hives, and I thought you could suggest a remedy. I never can remember to ask when I write, so thought I would devote this whole document to hives. Furthermore, another friend of mine has contracted them lately, and to-day I notice a few red spots on my arms! Perhaps it is in mortal terror and self preservation that I write!
Anyway, if you can suggest any remedy, we'll all be thankful.

So glad Henry is better & that he & Evhina can visit you. Love to all, Coral.

P.S.
— Brilliant (?) idea which has just struck. Would you say that we have to scratch for a living in California? I'll let Will supply the answer.
