

I told her about you being without a girl - but she thought you had it much easier than she because you had so many in the house who could help you - but the children becaus' Katherin go to school - and just of present Clara is keeping up the house and two dinners for because Joe has to be at Edgelmont.
I think I have the smartest sisters ever any body had - About Craydins' chest - she has the old red one which Aunt Ellen us to have - and which I once asked Maetius the history of It seems to be the style now a-days. Fanzeline has been substituting initials on Touels - and Shuning table cloths and napkins. She wants lined sheets - blankets re which will come by degrees I have given her a few of my treasures. one M. P. H. lined sheet. and one of mine with Maetius' marking re some towels. an apron had before I was married re I have set the bread. put beauty toak - been all over cellar re but now must get dressed and to work.
