

Bridgeton, New Jersey,
U. S. A., Dec. 15, 1887.

To the Presbyterian Missionaries Responding to "N. S. M." Inquiries Last Summer:

Your kind response to my circular of last summer concerning the proposed Simultaneous Meetings of the Synod of New Jersey, was duly received with great pleasure, & availed of in the Meetings. Selections from the earliest letters, which I incorporated into our Report to Synod (see N. S. M. No. 5, pp. 4 + 5) were received by a full house with delighted surprise; & a brother at once offered to pay for a special edition of the Report, with as many more selections from letters as it might be possible to include.
The work pressed too heavily on me (occupied as I was also with my own church) to make more possible than the additions marked "N. S. M. No. 7." This, with the Report, was sent to all the churches, where they were very welcome. Brethren enjoyed keenly this special close acquaintance with you, & thro' this means many special intercessions for your field & requests have ascended to our heavenly Father, & are still offered.

I desire to add to you my personal thanks for your most welcome inclosures to me, as well as for this beginning of a nearer acquaintance. I hope to be able to use yet further among the churches, the material sent me from many fields. The responses in all have been nearly fifty.

The present inclosure to you contains a sample of each of the publications by our Committee. They have been printed in different establishments by reason of our widely-separated sub-committees - tho' I know you will think "widely" a rather violent adjective amid American conveniences. "No 5" will appear just as herewith, in Synod's Minutes of 1887. No 3 ("Present Attitude of Evangelical Missions") was reserved for Ministers exclusively, & "No. 4" for Laymen (Elders chiefly) exclusively, until the Simultaneous Week was over, in the hope that men unable to procure other missionary material might with these at hand, carry on some meetings which would otherwise have failed. I have heard as yet but little from these; all favorably.

It is yet too early to speak much of results; but some are already known to us. Synod welcomed our Report with the heartiest applause; & one circumstance displayed indubitably the strong feeling aroused. In fear lest our somewhat delayed Nos. 3 & 4 might not afford the spur we wished to unpracticed or indifferent pastors or others, I hastily gathered a box of Tracey's "Outline Series" on India, China, Open Doors &c., — compilations of facts, without any mere rhetoric — & put them on sale at Synod. At price, 5, 10 + 20 cents, I sold nearly $50 worth (without profit); so eagerly, did men signify both their readiness to serve in the Week, & show their sense of needing material.

The Meetings were held, actually, in a very large majority of our towns; & with close conformity to the Plan (see "No. 2"). As in the "F. S. M.", "it was a day of small towns", the best Meetings being among such, thro' the Secretaries of the Board were greatly pleased where they went; & many fine meetings were had in large towns. I hear of two conversions to foreign Missions, of the chief man in a church, thus firing us that church as never before. Some prof- fers of service are reported; some increase of individual contributions; many minis- ters, from having to prepare F. M. speeches, have learned a new-interest; some recent- ly-ordained pastors have an impetus that will not fail to be of lasting advantage.