Mrs. William H. Belden
Clifton Springs
N. York.

Christian, I know you will be glad to. I often think of your unwearing care of William & his helplessness and wish he might have had such a wife to care for and comfort him. Mary has taken Jenny to Belo, to a dressmaker & they have taken J. M. and Ad. to see Mrs.
Crane, who lately met with an accident &
is helpless I believe

I imagine she worries him more than she helps him. Poor man
he needs sympathy and Aunt E - says he seems so grateful and longs for sympathy talks with her about religion. believes everything but don't
"rejoice" won't you &
don. write your prayers with us that he may become a happy

What a chapter of disaster this letter is filled with. I cannot for a moment forget all my many blessing and thank my heavenly Father for Heaven all.
 I do rejoice that W.
 is improving. All he is - I cannot write now - but we were very glad to get his letter with the assurance

Tell Willie. I was delighted to get his letter and hope to write to him soon when I get letter Give each of the dear children much love
from their & grandmothers Aunt Jerry says the twins are such "helpful girls" &c - Will they kiss the younger ones for S. M and a hundred the dearling - "Ma's boys"
